NWP Services Corporation Announces Agreement with Waste Reduction Consultants to Provide Total Waste Expense Management Solution

NWP to reduce waste management expenses for multifamily properties

Irvine, Ca; July 10, 2009 – NWP Services Corporation (NWP), the leading provider of financial transaction processing solutions for the multifamily housing industry, today announced an agreement with Waste Reduction Consultants, Inc. (WASTE REDUCTION) to provide a total waste expense management product to NWP clients. NWP will integrate its award-winning utility management product, UtilityPay Manager, with WASTE REDUCTION's dominant waste expense management solution for Multifamily.

"We are pleased to work with WASTE REDUCTION which enhances our utility invoice processing and expense reduction products, tightens expense controls and improves recovery of all waste-related costs for our client's multifamily communities that would otherwise be lost," stated Michael Radice, president and CEO of NWP Services Corporation.

Waste disposal expenses have long been an area of opportunity for expense reduction, but recent years have been marked with record price inflation for the waste industry. Now, both Federal and local-level legislation is increasing on defining requirements for recycling and the disposal of special waste items such as universal waste (ex: batteries, fluorescent bulbs, paints, etc.) and e-waste (ex: computers, household appliances). As a result, multifamily owners and managers are faced with increasing complexities in mitigating accelerated expense growth and navigating compliance issues. The new solution to be offered by NWP will solve these problems by delivering sustainable expense savings, accurate and dependable resident bill allocation and improved service quality and resident satisfaction for waste and recycling program expenses.

"We cannot help but notice the waste management industry is changing fast. New legislation is making waste a risk management issue on top of an already escalating expense problem for our customers. NWP searched the marketplace for a partner with the waste industry expertise, operational capabilities and a customer-centric business model needed to make this program a durable success," stated Jim Charles, senior vice president of Product Management and Engineering at NWP. "WASTE REDUCTION exceeded our expectations on all three requirements," added Charles.

"Combining NWP's resident billing and utility management capabilities with WASTE REDUCTION's comprehensive waste expense management services creates a powerful and seamless solution. We are heavily focused on serving the multifamily industry and look forward to expanding our market leader position with this exciting new solution," stated Bryce Kaspar, president and CEO of WASTE REDUCTION.

About NWP Services Corporation:

Headquartered in Irvine, California, NWP Services Corporation (NWP) serves the multifamily housing industry as its leading financial transaction processing provider. NWP is known for its industry expertise delivering proven results and exceptional quality in resident billing, resident payment processing and utility management.

Resident billing by NWP helps property owners offset their utility expenses. The company's utility cost recovery team allocates utility charges to residents and prints and sends the bill; NWP's billing options now include convergent-or "rent-inclusive"-billing through its Resident OneBill service. Complementing its billing services, the company's electronic resident payment processing service; called Resident ePay; enables residents to pay their rent, utilities and other monthly charges online or at the rental office with funds transferred to the property's bank account electronically. Resident ePay gives residents convenience and choice and enables owners to access cash faster. In addition, with its UtilityPay Manager program, NWP processes and pays invoices sent to customers' properties by utility companies. UtilityPay Manager helps customers reduce time spent on administrative bill payment work and provides them with valuable utility data and additional cost management opportunities, including recovering expenses from residents when they fail to transfer utilities into their own name.

NWP's offerings are available as individual services or as a fully integrated solution and are designed to accelerate the financial performance of our customers, allowing them to recover and reduce operating costs, create operational efficiencies, improve NOI and FFO and boost resident satisfaction.
